

High Schools Report Card

A+	A Brooklyn high school makes AYP
A+	In a Los Angeles high school, every subgroup meets mathematics proficiency standards on state tests
A+	With an 87% graduation rate, a non-selective Baltimore high school beats district average by 25 percentage points
A+	A North Carolina high school is honored as one of its county's most improved schools

How did they do it? Talent Development High Schools!

These schools and 100 more across the country turned to Talent Development to help them turn around — to reduce absenteeism, increase promotion rates, engage students in relevant coursework, and keep all students achieving and advancing along the path to graduation.

Talent Development High Schools is a comprehensive model with a track record of success in challenging, high-poverty high schools. Its key components are:

- Ninth-grade Success Academy
- Career academies in grades 10-12
- Interdisciplinary teacher teams
- Freshman Seminar
- Targeted acceleration curricula designed to help students performing below grade level succeed in standards-based college prep courses:

Mathematics: *Transition to Advanced Mathematics**, *Geometry Foundations**, Algebra II Foundations * Spanish units available!

English: Strategic Reading, Reading & Writing in Your Career, College Prep Reading & Writing

- Extra-help labs in mathematics and English Language Arts
- On-site professional development and peer coaching

Learn more about successful TDHS schools and comprehensive interventions that will meet NCLB corrective action or restructuring requirements and enable all students to graduate prepared for college and career at:

www.every1graduates.org/tdworks, call 410-516-5191, or email: TDinfo@csos.jhu.edu.

Talent Development Gets Results!